FOREWORD

The Yearbook on Arbitration and Mediation is an annual publication covering major developments in the fields of domestic and international arbitration and mediation. The Yearbook publishes professional articles which are edited by students at the Penn State University Dickinson School of Law. In addition, articles authored by students on the editorial board complement the professional articles.

Volume 6 features submissions from the Yearbook's 2014 symposium titled, "ADR as Public Policy: Domestic and International Perspectives." The 2014 symposium featured leading scholars from around the world. On behalf of the faculty advisors and the editorial staff, I hope you enjoy Volume 6 of the Yearbook on Arbitration and Mediation.
